Hi Ms Donna,

Im so excited to hear from you! This has been one Journey ill never forget! It has really changed my life forever. You can come to prison & leave one of two ways, the first way is having not allowed yourself to change at all & not learned anything or you can take advantage of it & use all the time you have to get to know yourself & make some changes & go home a new & better person. As for me well im going with option #2 (haha). Yes I may be locked up but glory to God He has set me free! Well ive got a few praise reports that Id like to share. (I just love telling people what God is doing for me right now) The big one is I was water baptized on Sunday June 3rd! Our chaplin here at H.C.I is the one who did it & I have to just say im pleased with that because she is a truely mighty women of God! This compound is very blessed & we have some really awesome services here. Im very lucky to have been choosen to come here. The next one is that I passed my GED & Im having a graduation Ceremony on the 10th! I get to wear a silver cap & gown & meet the warden & all that stuff. Well get cake & punch & everything. I feel so accomplished but I could have never done it without the Lord! I say that because I stoped going to school when I was 16 & its been a long time since I seen or practiced any of that stuff. So before I took the test I prayed & said "Lord I need your guidance & im trusting that if its your will for me that I'll pass this test. And wouldn't you know I passed on my 1st shot & even made pretty high scores. That just shows me how good God is!! I could keep going but I won't. (Ha, Ha) My early release date is June 21st 2014 so that's about one more year. Time flies in here anyways so it's not bad. I would like to send you my testimony to add to your website also. I think that's a wonderful idea. Ms Donna I would like to thank you for all the things you send me & for writing me back. I have a prayer request. Please pray for my mom that God delivers her from the drugs & leads her back to Him. I can't lose my mom after just losing my son! Please pray! Well I hope to hear back from you soon. Tell the girls at OCJ I say hello & to trust & have faith in the Lord & He will work it all out! Hope to hear from you soon.
